The Excuse for Invading Kansas.

Some days since, in noticing the proclamation of Gov. Walker, denouncing the Lawrence people as traitors for forming and adopting a city charter, we said:

In the exercise of the same right which we, in Milwaukee, have exercised several times, the people held meetings, appointed committees, formed and adopted a charter, and, it having been submitted to a vote of the people, was adopted, and officers have been elected under it, almost unanimously. This act of pure popular sovereignty, it is, which Gov. Walker denounces as treason, and calls out the U. S. troops to put down!

To this, the Madison Argus, in fealty to its party bound to defend any, the most outrageous, acts of Walker, rejoins:

Now we ask the Sentinel when the people of Milwaukee have exercised such rights? Give us one instance out of the several. The people of Milwaukee have always voted as the law directed, have never voted under any charter not in accordance with law, and the Sentinel knows such to be the case.

What right had the people of Lawrence to form a charter. They asked for a charter from the legislature they call the true one, that formed by them under the Topeka convention, and were refused. Now they hold, by their act, even that in contempt, and set up their own men as superior to that, to the legitimate territorial government and to the government of the Union.

To the utmost extent that there could be a parallel, the citizens of Milwaukee have exercised just the rights claimed by the Lawrence people, and the exercise of which is pronounced treason by Robert J. Walker, Mr. Buchanan's Viceroy in Kansas. We have met in primary meetings, the business of preparing charters has been discussed, and entrusted to committees, and we have adopted charters. Fortunately, in our case, we had Legislatures legally elected, and performing their functions in peace, which, on application, gave their formal consent to the adoption of these charters, if the people so pleased. Unfortunately, in the case of Lawrence, the so-called Legislature recognized by Walker and the Democratic party, was an illegally elected assemblage of Missouri invaders and ruffians, whose acts General Cass denounced in the U. S. Senate, as "a disgrace to the age." From such a body, the Lawrence people would not accept a charter, of course. The Free State Legislature, inspired by sentiments which did them credit, resolved to take no action in relation to granting municipal charters, but only to keep its organization and wait the turn of events.

Yet the Lawrence people needed a charter, or some kind of organization which should enable them to provide for the health and police of their city, and for necessary public improvements. So, in the exercise of "popular sovereignty," they have adopted a charter for these purposes, and Gov. Walker and the democracy call it TREASON! and call for the U. S. troops to suppress it.

The State Superintendent.

In reference to our favorable mention of Mr. McMYNN for State Superintendent, the Madison Argus says:

This attempt to forestall public opinion by bringing out Mr. McMYNN, [the only man that has been mentioned by the Milwaukee Sentinel in connection with the republican nominations, this fall,] looks very like a Bookseller's trick. The Sentinel starts the ball; the Free Democrat encorses the Sentinel, and a modest communication in the Wisconsin, without adverting to either article, supports the same. It looks exactly like a scheme opened by some school book publishers to pull Mr. McMYNN into office, the same as they pull their wares into celebrity. Look out for Bookseller's tricks.

We made no mention whatever of a Republican nomination, and, so far from desiring any party triumph in the case are we—so earnestly do we desire the election of some capable, energetic man, free from unfortunate influences, that if the democrats shall nominate such a man, while our party does not put up the name of an unexceptionable person, we trust that the democrat may be elected. It is because we know Mr. McMYNN to be an able man, and not interested in any shape with booksellers, that we favor his nomination.

A Demoralized Party.

We have seldom seen so much pungent truth conveyed in such brief terms as is contained in the following article, which we transfer to our columns from the Kenebec, Me., Journal, in relation to the demoralized condition of the old Democratic party, which claims its descent from Jefferson, who would blush to own his imported offspring:

"If, says the Journal, white men are to be manacled and imprisoned for exercising free speech in our national territories, the democratic party is the organization which is expected to encase the barbarous edict. If poor negroes are to be reduced to bondage on the same sacred soil, the democratic party is the agency to do it. If the degraded and abused slave escape to free soil, and is pursued by his revengeful master, the democratic party, with its minions and officials, stand ready to hunt him down and send him back. If a blood stained villain invades a friendly nation with a host of fellow pirates, and lay waste the country in indiscriminate murder and arson, and is at last compelled to flee for his life, he is sure if he can but get back to this land, to find a word of welcome from the presses and the orators of the democratic party.

If a Supreme Court, forgetful alike of its own dignity and of natural justice, choses to travel beyond its own record and pronounce extra-judicial decrees which strike at the very root of liberty and disfranchise a whole race at one blow, the Democratic party stands ready to applaud the tyrannical edict, and to adopt its odious essence into its very platform of principles. If a reckless and dishonest officer chooses to imperil the lives and property of a million of people rather than submit to the just requirements of the law, the Democratic party will countenance and sustain him in his rebellion. If a State cursed and bowed down with slavery shows any disposition to get rid of the incubus, the Democratic party at once discourages and frowns upon the attempt, and preaches the doctrine that Freedom is not better than slavery. In short there is no public measure which looks to the amelioration of man, which takes the side of law and order, which involves the aid of philanthropist—there is no measure of this kind which is not sure to meet resistance and opposition at the hands of the Democratic party. As an organization, it seems cursed with a moral obliquity which prevents its taking a fair view of any public question, and which, by an irresistible fatality, drives it to espouse the wrong. Ever since its affiliation with the "Border Ruffians" of Missouri, it has become inoculated with their crimes, adopted their vicious creed, and has fairly earned a title to their name."

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.—NOTICE TO POSTMASTERS.—Postmasters are cautioned not to send money to the Post Office Department, or to either of its blank agencies, for the purpose of paying for printing signature post bills or marking stamps. As there is no authority for such payment on the part of postmasters, the department has directed that all money forwarded for such purposes shall be returned.

☞ The Paterson Guardian contradicts the statements that the pearls recently found in that vicinity were of much less value than represented. It says that the greatest price received for any one pearl was $250, another brought $900, another $800. One is still unsold, which is valued at $1,100. The total amount of receipts has been about $12,000. However, the first discoverer has received $4,000, the Quackenbush family $5,500, a Bergen county farmer $800, and others small amounts from $100 to $500.

N. Y. CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.—The N. Y. Mirror says that the Children's Aid Society have now five schools, containing 1,200 children, under their charge. Since its establishment in 1853, it has provided homes in the country for over 3,000 children. Of these, near 100 are in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, and it was contemplated for either Mr. Tracy or Mr. Geary to go out this week with a small lot, and visit all those left previously in that region, for the purpose of seeing that they are well cared for.

☞ The Cincinnati Commercial states that a terrific clap of thunder at about half-past five on Sunday afternoon startled the city out of its propriety. The sun was shining brightly at the time and not a cloud marred the clear azure of of the sky. Its lengthened rumbling roll was like the growling underwork of an earthquake.

COPPER FROM ONTONAGON—THE GREAT MASS.—The Ontonagon Miner of the 18th says that up to date there had been shipped from that port this season 2,858,117 pounds of copper. Of this, 297,828 lbs., or nearly 149 tons, was taken from the great mass in the Minnesota Mine.

ENGINE AT MANITOWOC.—One of Button's best fire engines has just been tested at Manitowoc for the Fire Department of that place. It threw an inch stream over 150 feet.

COUNTY JUDGE.—EDWARD A. CLAPP has been elected County Judge of St. Croix Co, without opposition.

COOL.—The Sentinel one day located Pittsburgh and Green Bay on opposite sides of the Rocky mountains, but being caught by the Argus & Democrat, it corrected [?] itself by saying that it should have been on opposite sides of the Alleghany mountains, which brought the Argus & Democrat down upon it again with a query on the Sentinel, which that paper declines answering, but recommends the common school to the editor of the Argus & Democrat.—News.

The Sentinel did not "locate Pittsburgh and Green Bay on opposite sides of the Rocky Mountains," and made no such correction as the News asserts. We extend our recommendation to the editor of the News.

THE SHAM DEMOCRATIC FARCE IN MINNESOTA.—The St. Paul Minnesotian of the 22d, thus records the doings, or no-doings of the Democratic minority of the Convention:

Not Ready Yet!

The thirty faithful of the factious minority who insist upon keeping up the farce of a separate Convention, met again yesterday. At two o'clock Mr. Becker moved that the "Convention" take a recess of fifteen minutes, in order to allow the absentees time to come in from their dinners, was carried.

The fifteen minutes having elapsed, and none of the absentees having made their appearance, Mr. Chairman Sibley, looking cross and meataxey, again rapped the meeting to order. Dr. Ames, Chairman of the Committee on Credentials asked another day's time to make up his report, which, after a "suggestion" or two by Mr. Becker, was allowed. Mr. Murray moved that the Convention adjourn, which was declared lost.—Then Gorman turned up in the back part of the Hall, and moved that the sergeant-at-arms be sent after the absentees. Mr. Murray rose to a point of order, and very properly enquired for the evidence in possession of the "Convention," showing that there were any absentees!

Mr. Sibly—(in a petulent and snappish tone,) "The Chair will not entertain the point of order."

Murray caved!

After some further exhibitions of ill-temper on the part of the Chair, accompanied by sundry sheepish glances from one member to another, somebody moved that the "Convention" adjourn until 12 o'clock to-day. A diversion was called, and although the motion was lost on actual count by three majority, the Chair declared the body adjourned.

Such is the daily farce performed to the great amusement of the people by these men, claiming to be the Constitutional Convention! They are becoming the butt of ridicule for every man and boy about town.

WHAT WALKER IS DOING.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, writing from Lawrence, July 20th, says:

Gov. Walker passed through Lawrence on his way to Leavenworth, where he issued his proclamation, and returned immediately to Lawrence with an army of United States troops. The people of Lawrence are very much enraged at his conduct. They all unite in treating him with perfect contempt. Upon his arrival, proceeded and followed by the troops, the citizens called a meeting, and resolved, that should he try to meet them in concourse, to read his proclamation, or have anything whatever to say to them, they should immediately turn their backs upon him and none should listen. That, if possible, not a dog should be allowed to remain on the street within hearing. A satirical party on his proclamation was published and circulated. He finds he cannot frighten the men of Lawrence with these demonstrations, and so sends after more troops and artillery. He himself is spending the time in waiting in drinking very hard.—It is reported that he intends issuing another proclamation, and it is generally believed that he intends to enforce collection of the taxes. The people all attend to their business the same as usual. The city council attend to their business, but avoid any but the most useful and necessary acts. We have no idea as yet what he intends doing, but if he continues in as drunken and crazy a state as at present, he is a dangerous customer to be around. The city council may have to banish him as a nuisance.

Should he order fight, however, other parts of the Territory have volunteered assistance, and could in a short time congregate at Lawrence.—The people of Lawrence would rather manage it themselves, and without fighting, if possible.

PEAT BED IN SHARON.—While at Allen's grove this week, we received some information concerning a bed of peat, some 8 miles from that Village, in the Town of Sharon. We saw a specimen of the article, but not being acquainted with it we could form no opinion as to its value.

Mr. Morse, who was our informant, states that on the farm of John Norton, there is some 40 acres of it, extending about 15 feet below the surface, and also another bank of about 15 acres near by.

Mr. Norton has used this peat for two years, without wood or coal, and thinks it better and cheaper than either. Mr. Morse, of the Allen's Grove Mill is about making arrangements to test the value of the article, in his furnace, and is confident that it will supply the place of the coal which he now uses.—Elkhorn Independent.

We should like to know what has become of the Madison peat beds, which, by our correspondents in that quarter, we helped to make famous. Can our Madison cotemporaries tell us anything about them?

UNLADYLIKE.—The Ontonagon Miner says:

We would like to know what the steamer Lady Elgin means by carrying the mail sent from Chicago to this place to Superior and back before landing it. This is a great inconvenience to persons receiving letters and wishing to answer them immediately. By the time the mail is taken to the post office and distributed, she is ready to leave, and letters destined to Chicago and other ports on Lake Michigan, have to go by way of Detroit, which occasions a delay of one or two days. Will the Lady explain?

That is very unladylike conduct indeed on the part of the Lady Elgin, to use the mails so shabbily.

☞ The harvest has commenced! There is a field of wheat visible from the Court House, on the opposite shore of Lake Monona, the grain of which has been cut and carried away. The reapers could be seen at their work from the windows of the Court House.—Madison Jour.

The Poisoning Affair in Cincinnati.

The horrible affair in the way of poisoning children in Cincinnati, which has lately caused such excitement there, is shorn of its horrors by the following statement in the Gazette:

The manner in which the children were poisoned has been discovered, and the discovery proves satisfactorily that no criminality existed in the matter upon the part of any one. A drunken, half vagabond German, who has received the sobriquet of "Rat Peter," from his making rat poison in the shape of small cakes or wafers, to stable keepers, butchers and others, was in a coffee house near Buckeye street day before yesterday afternoon, where he became so much intoxicated that he was ejected from the premises. He had with him, as usual, a small box containing these wafers, and as he went staggering along, he dropped a number of them upon the pavements, which the children thereabouts picked up and ate and gave to others. This correct version of the poisoning affair relieves it of all its mystery and horror, and, to a great extent, mars what might have been called a thrilling item.

THE DEPONENTS IN THE INQUEST MISTAKEN.

By what particular agency the deponents at the Coroner's inquest were enabled to discover arsenic and heaps of poisoned wafers deposited at different points in and about Buckeye street, and to see a man going about with a box under his arm, distributing the wafers to the children, is more mysterious than the affair as originally told.

Probably, our German fellow citizens were so excited, and their imaginations so fired by what they supposed a revelation of modern Borgiaism, that they could not see nor judge clearly. At any rate, very little doubt exists at present that the first representation of the matter was erroneous and without foundation in facts. We are very glad that the thing has thus resulted; and that we are spared the pain of believing human nature so depraved as to receive a diabolic gratification from a wanton infliction of injury, and agony, and death upon harmless and unoffending children.

THE DISASTER AT THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.—We gave a telegraph dispatch mentioning the death of two persons at the Fiume House, at the White Mountains, by lightning. The Boston Traveller says:

By the 1 P. M. train to-day, the widow of Mr. Smith, with the body of the deceased, reached this city. By passengers in this train we learn the following facts in regard to the disaster:

The lightning struck a flagstaff erected in front of the house, on the 4th of July last, descended the pole until it reached the wire of a bell, and thence entered the house.

Mr. Smith was sitting in the portico when he was struck and killed. Mr. Blandin was writing at his desk. A child near him was stunned and slightly injured, as were also a number of other boarders in the vicinity of the persons killed.

A correspondent of the New York Times says:

The fluid passed from the flagstaff to the bell-wires, which it followed on through the immense building from room to room, melting the wires, tearing away the castings of the windows, breaking the wall, and shivering its way out of the building in many different places. In the parlor it leaped from the walls to the gilt picture frames, and after tarnishing them spoke on its fearful path of death and sorrow. Not a bell-wire can be used.

Had the house been crowded, as it often is, the destruction of life must have been immense. As it was, the escape of those who were struck down is almost miraculous. A boy belonging to the house was standing with the clerk, within the desk or counter, and although very much hurt, escaped with his life. Two brothers Kellogg, sitting with their backs towards the building, were killed, the fluid passing from a nail in the building, burning a hole in the coat of one of them, and following his watch chain, partially melted it. Their sister was literally burned.—Mrs Hatch was thrown to the floor in the upper hall, having just crossed the threshhold of her room, in which the fluid passed from the bell wire to the bed-stead, snapping off one of the legs and tearing up the floor. Rev. Mr. Romeyn was struck down to the floor in unconsciousness, while conversing with Mr. Smith, who was killed at his side. Thus within twelve feet five were prostrated and two instantly killed.

CRAWFORD, THE SURVEYOR.—A private letter received by the steamer Atlantic, dated London July 2nd, says:

"Since I had the pleasure to write to you some six weeks ago, Mr. Crawford has improved much in general health, strength having in a great measure returned to the limbs, both appetite and spirits being better, and his sleep generally refreshing. There has been no return of the most unfavorable symptoms, such as paralysis and nausea, the growth and progress of the tumour having been wholly arrested by Dr. Fell's applications. And here ends all that can at present be said in truth. Yet we have much reason to hope that as these symptoms have entirely disappeared, the brain is itself better. Upon this point all probability of a recovery depends."

The Chippewa Payment.

A payment of the Chippewas came off at the Agency, twenty-seven miles above this place, on Friday, the 10th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M. We were called upon to assist during the payment. Knowing the intemperate habits of the Indians, Maj. Merriman, the Agent, was particularly careful to make them their payment while they were sober; and on this day, luckily, he found them in a very good condition to receive their money. The "change" was passing hands until 10 o'clock at night, when most all, or at least the greatest share, of the Indians were paid.—As was anticipated, in the morning of the next day, they were all so drunk that the Agent did not deem it advisable to continue payment to the rest, until the latter part of the day. At that time they became considerably "straight," again, and those who could, received their money, and those who were still "orraspurred" had their's put into the hands of confidential friends for safe keeping. About $12,000 was comprised in this payment. Taking all things together, it passed off very pleasantly and agreeable, and to the satisfaction of all the Traders, both at Crow Wing and the Agency. Only two or three Indians were killed during the days of payment, and, we think, only one white man very badly injured by being stabbed. Yet, we have understood since that more Indians have been killed. The occasion was some grudge between the Pillagers and Mill Lac Band. From four to seven is said were killed. We are not aware, however, how true this last is, yet presume it is very nearly correct.—Little Falls (Minnesota) Herald.

INFORMATION WANTED.—William A Fuller, son of William A. Fuller, of La Crosse, left home on the night of July 7th, and has not since been heard from. Fears are entertained that he may have been drowned, but it is supposed that he may have gone up or down the river on a boat. He had on when he left a dark blue checked coat, and plaid pants, and was bare-footed. He is about 15 years of age, with a sill face, and rather heavy set. Any person who can give any information respecting him, will confer a favor by writing a line to Mrs. Catharine Fuller, La Crosse, Wis., or to the editors of this paper.—La Crosse Dem.

FIRE—DWELLING ON MAIN STREET CONSUMED.—Tuesday morning about two o'clock a fire broke out in the rear end of the dwelling house owned by H. Doneky and occupied by E. J. Dodg, and before the alarm was given it was thoroughly fired so that an attempt to extinguish it with buckets would be labor lost. Our citizens were on hand and succeeded in saving nearly all of the furniture—the house was entirely consumed. It was insured in the Milwaukee Mutual for $400. The actual value of the building was $700, so that Mr. Doneky's loss will not be far from $300.—Dunnkee Adv.

DARING ROBBERY.—On Saturday last, between 10 and 2 o'clock, while the nuptial ceremonies were being performed, uniting Mr. A. Patz, Jeweler, to his chosen one, his store was broken open, the safe unlocked, $650 extracted, and about $7,000 watches, and a variety of other Jewelry.

This is the boldest robbery ever known in this city, and now, at noonday, it could have been committed, and the thief escape, is astonishing. Mr. Patz offers $500 for any information that will lead to the conviction of the guilty.—La Crosse Democrat.

EAST TROY.—We think our neighboring friends at East Troy must be beginning to feel the influence of the prospects of a railroad, from the fact that we notice large amounts of lumber, sash and doors, are being hauled from the railroad station here to that place. Push ahead; your most sanguine anticipations cannot over rate the advantages which will result from the road.—Elkhorn Independent.

Interesting Accounts of the Mutinies in Bengal.

Correspondence of the New York Daily Times.

STEAMER ALMA, BAY OF BENGAL,
Wednesday, May 20, 1857.

I am writing this on board the Steamer Alma, which left Calcutta on Monday, the 18th inst., bound to Suez with the mails and passengers for England. We are now steaming down the Coromandel Coast, against a heavy head sea, and are within one hundred miles of Madras, where I shall leave the ship to prosecute a short journey into the Neilgherries. I have already posted to you, by this mail, papers containing intelligence of the Sepoy mutinies up to the 16th inst., and I now take up my pen to communicate more fully the alarming details of the massacres at Meerut and Delhi, which were received at Calcutta just before our steamer left the river.

The massacre at Meerut occurred on Sunday, the 10th inst. On Saturday, the 9th, there was a brigade parade at the station, and 85 men of the Third Native Cavalry, who had refused to load and fire the new cartridges, were ironed on the parade ground, in the presence of the troops, and then marched to jail and locked up. The officers on the station had up to this time, entertained no suspicion of an open revolt. But on Sunday evening the 10th inst., the third Cavalry rushed from their lines armed and furious, followed by the 20th Native Infantry, who fired their muskets, and called upon the 11th Native Infantry to come and join them. They immediately answered by rushing out from their lines fully armed. The English officers expostulated with the men, but were instantly shot down.

The mutineers were now joined by the basse and the town rabble, and, in one body, they rushed upon the jail, liberated their 85 comrades and at the same time set free about twelve hundred other prisoners, who had been confined for various offences. The frantic rebels now turned upon the English residents of the station, with the ferocity of tigers; and before the European troops could be assembled, one-half of the bungalows, the public buildings and the private residences of Meerut were in flames, and the wives and children of the English residents were flying in terror before the blood-thirsty Sepoys. The scene is described as horrible in the extreme, exhibiting the worst features of Asiatic barbarity. Every English officer that was discovered was instantly shot by the Sepoys.

The defenceless women and innocent children were not only butchered, in attempting to escape from the burning dwelling, but their bodies were horribly mutilated and cut in pieces on the highway, by these Hindoo savages. At last the European troops on the station, consisting of the 60th Regiment of Rifles and the 6th Regiment of Dragoon Guards, were drawn up to oppose the mutineers. After two volleys from the Rifles the rebels turned and fled. The Dragoons pursued them out of Meerut, and for several miles along the road to Delhi—cutting down numbers of them with their sabres.

Owing to a confusion caused by the darkness of the night, the pursuit was abandoned, and to this fact is attributed the appearance of the mutineers before Delhi. They reached that city, which is only about 35 miles from Meerut, early on Monday morning, and were joined by the three Native regiments stationed there, (the 38th, 54th and 74th N. I.) The entrance of Delhi was for a time defended by the officers of the 54th N. I. but that regiment soon fraternized with the rebels, and their officers were immediately slaughtered.

During the day all the Europeans in the city were butchered by the Sepoys, except some ten or twelve, who succeeded in escaping to the neighbouring stations. Many of them were surprised and massacred at a dinner party in the Fort—others were massacred at church, in their dwellings, and in the public streets. All the savage atrocities at Meerut were repeated, with tenfold madness, on the Christian women and children in Delhi. The mutineers plundered the bank of Delhi of 50 lacs of rupees, ($25,000,000.) They proclaimed a son of the late Mogul Emperor King, and, at the last accounts, were in full possession of the captured city.

An act of heroism by a young English officer during the sack of the city, is reported, and is worth commemorating. When the powder magazines and arsenal fell into the hands of the rebels, Lieut. G. D. Willoughby, of the artillery, gaining access to the stores of powder, set fire to them, destroying in the ruin with himself more than one thousand of the insurgents, who were crowded into the arsenal at the moment.

The Governor General at Calcutta is fully aroused at the impending crisis. The Commander-in-Chief, Gen. Anson, who unfortunately thinks more of the game of cricket than the games of war, has been summoned from his retirement in the Hills, to look after the condition of the army. Scindia, the young Maharajah of Gwalior, adjoining Delhi, has offered his troops, including his own body guard, to the Government, and the Rajah of Jhind, to whom the rebel King of Delhi sent messengers, invoking aid against the English, not only cut the messengers to pieces, but has also offered the services of his troops to the Government. The cavalry of the Rajah of Bhadore, and the troops of the Rajah of Puttealla, have also been tendered to the Governor General. These, with the English regiments in the northern hills, are now closing around the doomed city, and it will not be long ere the Bloat of the murdered Europeans shall be terribly avenged!

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

Discovery and Salvage of the Propeller J. W. Brooks.

About June 1st Messrs. Clark, Cowles and McCarty left Buffalo with a schooner, and air pumps, dresses and three divers, on a voyage of exploration. Having secured the service of Mr. Crawford, a confidential man in the employ of Messrs Calvin & Breck, they proceeded to the vicinity, when she broke away, and guided by Mr. Crawford's ranges ran on a sweep line, which inclosed the lost wreck in its first haul. Soundings were taken and fourteen fathoms found.—The schooner was hauled to the spot and Capt. Pike, of Buffalo, put on a German armature and was lowered away until he landed and signalled "all right." He soon was hauled up and reported that he was on the deck of a propeller at the fore-hatch. He descended a second time and sent up a large winch that was lying across the hatch.

Mr. Flynn, of Buffalo, then went down, and was lowered down into the hold, and sent up a barrel of pork and one of flour. The water was so excessively cold that the divers could endure it only a few minutes at a time; so it was decided to sling the wreck and carry it to shoal water. At eighty-four feet depth, in darkness and extreme cold, diving for ordinary cargo is not profitable. They then contracted with Messrs. Galvin & Breck for chains, barges, tugs, &c., to lift and move the Brooks, and, as soon as they arrived Messrs. Pike & Flynn went down and made fast to the wreck. At the first attempt she was lifted some fourteen feet, and towed one mile, where she grounded in seventy feet of water. Another chain and barge were then attached, and, being lifted some thirty feet, she was towed six miles, and grounded in forty feet of water. Then the wreck was lifted again, and towed thirty-four miles to Kingston, where she now lies in twenty-eight feet of water, and is being discharged. The hull is little injured, and the engine seems good. It is believed that there is no record of a vessel of any kind having been raised and saved from such a depth of water as this, much less a steamer of three hundred tons.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL—CONSPIRACY FOILED.—On Friday night last, a conspiracy to liberate two prisoners was discovered by Under Sheriff Bishop, just in time to break up the arrangement. It seems that two prisoners, Plummer and Morse, alias Perry, confined for burglary and forgery, had paid the Turnkey a bribe of about $75, to aid their escape. An unusual running about, and sundry suspicious circumstances of said Turnkey, attracted the hawk eye of Bishop, who immediately began a secret investigation. The Turnkey was observed, about dusk, to go into the back yard, and to open and close the doors very cautiously. Bishop snuffed the game, and was "around." He met the Turnkey as he came out of the jail, and asked him what he was doing.—"O, nothing!" was the very innocent reply.—"What have you got in there?" said Bishop, reaching his hand into the Turnkey's side pocket, and pulling out about $75. "Where did you get that money, you rascal?" "O, I don't want to tell!" replied the Turnkey smiling. "I'll take those keys," said Bishop, and he did take them, and "took" care of Mr. Turnkey in the bargain. He then went with another person, in their stocking feet, with a bundle and unlighted candle, to the cell of the prisoners, and found them fixed for a start, with carpet-bag in hand, pants rolled up, &c. But judge of their bewilderment and surprise, when a light revealed the smiling, yet determined countenance of Bishop before them. They both wilted, and owned up, that they had bribed the Turnkey. Everything was made safe, and thus was frustrated a plot that would if successful, have turned loose upon society, two hardened offenders.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed on Bishop for his sagacity in thus detecting and frustrating a plot with an officer in his employ and confidence.—Madison Patriot.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A boat towed by the Str. Arctic and containing three men, was swamped off this place yesterday morning. Two of them were left nearly half a mile astern before the alarm could be given, but they saved themselves by swimming until picked up by the steamer's yawl. The third clung to the boat and was also saved.—Manitowoc Tribune.

☞ A friend of Charles Lamb's once said to him, "I am about to open a preparatory school for children. What sort of a sign shall I put out?" "'The Murder of the Innocents,'" was his prompt reply.

The English Language.

It is spoken in England, Scotland and Ireland, in the United States and Territories, in the British Provinces, including Canada, in the West India Islands and Bermudas, and certain colonies of the Main, in the presidencies of India, and many of the protected States; every day evincing a greater desire on the part of the natives to attain it as a means of promotion.—It is greatly used in ports and Islands of China and the China seas; in the continually widening settlements of the Cape and of the Western Coast including Liberia and Sierra Leone. It is destined to be the language of Australia, Van Diemen's Land, Zealand, the South Sea Islands, and the Sandwich Islands; if we may not say the Polynesian clusters as a whole.

After such enumerations, you will scarcely pick up such items as St. Helena, Mauritius, Malta, Gibraltar and Corfu. We have already pointed you to millions. In no part of the earth is it on the wane; in many parts it is increasing with astonishing rapidity. With every new encroachment of Great Britain on the East, or America in the West, the English language is borne to fresh victories. Wherever it goes, it makes entrance for customs, trade opinions and books.—The great classics of England are daily read in countries which the authors themselves never heard of, and by those who lately had not heard of Great Britain.

No other tongue spoken by man is making such acquisitions; and this for reasons not to be denied at. The ancient progress of the Greek, and even the Latin, was geographically small, compared with this. The expansion has been chiefly within the last twenty years. Now that that language has come to be justly regard d as one of the great factors in every philosophical and political calculation, this predominating influence of a particular tongue must be acknowledged as one of the signal phenomena of the age. Nothing more unlikely could have been predicted 1,500 years ago, when, as they say, Hengist and Horsa, Saxon buccaneers, came over to Britain.

THE RETURN FOR "FLUNKYISM."—While the managers of the late Bunker Hill celebration for the martyr Warren were fawning upon Senator Mason, of Georgia, a disunionist, with so much assiduity that they could not find time to pay proper respect to Senators Foster, of Connecticut, and Wilson of Massachusetts, and Mr. Speaker Banks, the administration at Washington were engaged in the great and holy work of displacing Joseph Warren Newcombe—the only lineal grandchild and legitimate family representative of the revolutionary Warren living—from a petty clerkship in one of the departments, which was his sole means of support. The reason for this proscription is, that he was supposed not to believe in the patriarchality and divinity of slavery, as expounded by the Democratic party and Mr. Mason. A proposition was made to him, that if he would draw up a paper, denying any affinity with either the Republican or American parties, and take it before a magistrate and swear to it, he should be retained. This came from the Secretary of the Interior, through a mutual friend. "Tell the Secretary," he said, "that I will see him in the bottom of the bottomless pit before I will so degrade myself!" Because he will not be a slave, the government will not employ him.—Boston Transcript.

A CURIOSITY.—While at the City, delving among the old curio-ities in the office of the Clerk of the circuit Court, we came across the "Declaration of Intentions" and the "Full Papers" of Solomon Juneau, the Pioneer of Milwaukee. The former bear the date of 1837, the latter were issued in open Court, June 15, 1841, before the Hon. James Duane Doty, U. S. District Court Judge for the Territory of Michigan.

Another but more striking curiosity arrested our attention. At one term of the Court for the "County of Brown," (in 1839 it we remember the record aright,) the U. S. District Attorney failed to be present, and as neither the United States, nor the Territory of Michigan, was represented by a prosecuting Attorney, the Court appointed one for the Term: S. W. Beall. Mr. Beall declining to serve, the Court offered the office in succession to each of the Attorney's present—some half a dozen—but each and all of them declined to accept.—Appleton Crescent.

ACCIDENT.—A man employed in Lee & Cain's Mills at the Branch, had his arm nearly severed by a circular saw, on Wednesday last. These accidents are common in the Lumbering Establishments, and doubtless have their origin in the carelessness which familiarity with danger renders habitual.—Manitowoc Tribune.

☞ The Colored Workingmen's Home, a little the east of Canal, and extending through from Mott to Elizabeth street, is worthy a visit from all who take an interest in the amelioration of the condition of working classes. It was built for Grinnell, Minturn & Co., and holds about ninety families, each of which has a suite of rooms and is provided with water and other conveniences. The house is commodious and well ventilated, and the rent for a suit of rooms ranges from $6,50 to $8 a month, according to the story in which it is located, there being six stories in all. The house and ground cost somewhere about $60,000, and the annual income is over $8,000, which after a deduction for water, gas in halls, repairs, and other expenses, is still a very fair per centage. It is to be hoped that some of our wealthy citizens will build a similar workingmen's home for white people.—N. Y. Sun.

☞ In Goshen, New York, two men named Shaw, uncle and nephew, had a fight, in which the nephew got "lammed." The next time they met they had another fight, and the uncle got whipped. Both parties brought suit, and the case was refered to arbitrators, who decided that each pay to the other $75, and each pay his own cost.

A GREEN ROSE.—The editor of the New Orleans Picayune has seen a curiosity in the shape of a green rose—the leaf, stalk, bud and flower, like the "red rose," except that all is of one uniform color. The specimen shows the editor of the Picayune was deliciously fragrant, having the full scent of the wild sweet brier. They are said to be by no means rare there, nor have they been for years.

☞ A sportsman boasting of a prodigiously long and rather impossible shot with his rifle, asked Brown "what he thought of that?" "I think," said Brown, "that everything depends on the weapon. It would be a great shot for a gun, but nothing for a bow."

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT, JULY 27.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

John McGreevy and Frank Kneler, intoxicated and disorderly, fined $5 each.

Mary Kanally, charged with stealing a silver watch from dwelling of Edward Sullivan, worth $10, waived an examination, and committed in default of $200 bail for her appearance at Circuit Court.

Paul Bastelin, alias, charged with stealing coat, &c., valued at $9.50, from the dwelling house of Jacob Kier, committed for examination.

August Bitt r, charged with assault with intent to kill Mary Heis, was committed in default of $1,000 bail for his appearance.

Michael Hayden, charged with assault with intent to kill his child, case continued to July 28th.

Wm. Reynolds, disorderly, sent up for 11 days in default of $2 fine.

Edward Welch, disorderly, fined $3.

Wood's Rock Drill.—This is a valuable labor-saving machine, which merits a high position among the improvements of the age. Mr. Geo. H. Wood, of Green Bay, is the inventor and patentee, and Mr. H. Ashcroft is the agent for Wisconsin, Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and New York. The new orders for sale, Quarry, Town, County and State Rights, and will remain a short time in this city. His place of business is at the office of the Milwaukee & Beloit R. R. Office, East Water street, where a sample of the machine may be seen.

We saw it in operation yesterday, and think it is far superior to any other drilling machine that we have yet seen.

It consists of two drill bars, so arranged as to lift by turning the handle, and strike the rock the force of a powerful spring, which may be graduated to almost any power; and they have a rotary motion, which can be instantly adjusted to such rate as the quality of the rock may require, and at each blow the drill is held firmly in its place by the spring, thus making it impossible for it to glance back into a former cut. One man, with one of these machines, can easily drill 120 feet in a day through the hardest rock. It is very simple, and will not often get out of repair.

All who are interested in quarrying or mining, should give this a trial.

"Household Words" for July.—We have the reprint, by Harper & Curtis, N. Y., of Dickens' Household Words for July. We regard this as one of the most interesting and valuable of the reprints of English Magazines, and always find something new, instructive and entertaining in its pages. In the 34 chapters of this number, there is more that is not well worth reading.

We have also the August number of that capital monthly for boys and girls—the Schoolfellow—published by the same firm. It well deserves its extensive popularity, and we do not see how a dollar can be better spent by a parent for the amusement as well as instruction of his children, than in a subscription to it.

Larceny.—A man named Paul Bunstein was arrested more than a week ago on a charge of stealing a coat from the Rochester House, in the 5th ward.—He was lodged in the jail on Sunday to await his examination on Monday morning, and was brought down to the Police Court with a number of others. Through the carelessness of the constable who arrested him, or by some misunderstanding, there was no charge brought against him, nor no one to prosecute, and he was consequently discharged. He had been at liberty for a week, when the same constable re-arrested him on the same charge, and he was yesterday committed for examination and will now, probably be sent to State Prison.

A Handsome Present.—A handsome copy of Messrs. Rating, Bertios & Co's new City Directory was presented to the Common Council, at the inauguration of their new hall, last night. The copy presented was an advance one, beautifully bound by H. Stedecken & Co., in Turkey Morocco, with the inscription in handsome gilt letters, on one of the covers.

"TO THE COMMON COUNCIL

Shooting Affair.—A German named August Ritter was arrested yesterday on a charge of an assault upon, with intent to kill Mary Rein. The assault was the discharging of a shot-gun at the latter, some of the contents of which lodged in her clothes, without injuring her, however. Conflicting stories are told on both sides, so that we forbear comment at present. The parties live in the suburbs of the city, and, it is said, quarreled before. Ritter was committed for examination in default of $1,000 bail.

Taylor's Saloon, New York.—This gorgeous palace of the gourmands, which has been undergoing the process of re-decoration and re-gilding, was, on Monday, for the first time, in all its newness of splendor, thrown open to the inspection of the public. The improvement is great, and the effect of the ornamentation is gorgeous. The mirrors and elegantly elaborated columns of crimson and gold, lend an air of luxurious enchantment to the place that can hardly be described. The artists have made a greater display of colors than in the original ornamentation, which is a material improvement.

Beloit Female Seminary.—We invite attention to the advertisement of this institution, which will be found in another column. It is under the care of Rev. Samuel Bennett, late of Worcester, Mass., and Mrs. Bennett, formerly principal of the Wheaton Female Seminary at Norton, Mass., assisted by other experienced teachers.—It is intended to make this a first-class school for young ladies, and the references given in this city and elsewhere are unexceptionable.

Smith's Panorama.—This fine panorama of Europe, will be exhibited again this evening at Young's Hall. The Hall has been crowded every evening since its exhibition commenced, and everybody that sees it, goes to see it again. Those who have lived in Europe, or travelled though the places which it represents, will be pleased to see them, and those who have not should go and see what they have never seen before.

A Nuisance.—We have been requested, by residents living on Prospect Street, to call the attention of the 1st Ward Aldermen to the shameful condition of that street, near Division, and also of the latter street, between Astor and Prospect. It is in such a state, that it is with the greatest difficulty that carriages of any kind can pass over it. Alderman Hadley got no votes from this quarter. So says our informant

The Weather.—We had a tremendous thunder storm on Sunday evening. It rained furiously for several hours, converting the streets into rivers. It rained considerably yesterday, and did not look much like clearing last night. At this particular season a great deal of such weather is not to be desired.

The New Common Council Hall.—The Common Council held their first meeting in the new Hall, in Excelsior Block, last night. It is an elegant room, and is beautifully fitted up. The furniture for it is not yet finished, so that the old desks and chairs were used last night. When it is entirely completed, we shall notice it more particularly.

Missing.—A young man named Ezra Roberts, about 19 years of age, left his boarding house on Tuesday evening last, for the purpose of bathing, and has not since been heard of. It is supposed by his friends that he is drowned. He lived with Mrs. Davis, on the corner of Jefferson and Huron streets, and any information respecting him will be thankfully received by her.

Pepper Box Architecture.

Messrs. Editors:—From the suggestion of Pepper-Box, in your paper of this morning, it is thought advisable to to remodel the steeple of Summerfield M. E. Church so as to make it suitable for the reception of a Mustard Pot, and if Pepper-Box will call on the contractor, he will be happy to take his dimensions, and provide for him an eligible spot on the summit of said steeple.

Virgan Cruit.

Business, in general trade, has been moderately active for the season. Merchants, whose assortments are good, are doing a fair trade, both jobbing and retail.

Produce has been very dull and little doing. Occasional demands for extra lots for the mills (choice lots), and to fill cargoes, have enhanced prices somewhat during the week, but the aggregate business has been small, and the warehouses are nearly "swept and garnished," ready for the new crop. Farmers have already commenced cutting the spring wheat, and we shall doubtless have the first lots in this week.

The total shipments of wheat and flour (reduced to wheat) this season, are 3,024,060 bushels.

The Money market has somewhat improved, to the great relief of the public.

Money Market.

Banking and Exchange Office of Bridge Brothers,
228 East Water St., Mil., July 27, '57.

There is a noticeable improvement in the market since our last. Money is offering freely at fair rates for the purchase of short first-class paper, and an increased desire is manifested to make long investments. Securities are closely scrutinized, however, and it is useless to attempt their negotiation unless they are "first proof."

The supply of capital at the East continues abundant, and operators exhibit more confidence.

Land Warrants are in full demand at advanced figures.

We quote, selling, at an advance of 2 cents per acre over last week:

40 acre warrants	$1,17
80 " "	1 66

We guarantee all warrants we sell, in every respect, and shall pay particular attention to orders from the country.

Exchange has been somewhat closer, but we have no change to note to price; buying at ¾ al per c.; selling for Milwaukee city, New York and New England notes, and coin ½ per cent, currency 1¾ per cent.

We append an abstract of our Circular, copies of which may be had at our office.

Indiana Free Banks, (specie paying) 2 to 5 per cent discount.

Solvent Southern and Pennsylvania Banks, 2 to 5 per cent Discount.

Erie City Bank 40 per cent discount.

Bank of Newcastle 80 per cent discount.

Wool.—An active demand prevails for this article at full prices, and all British advices seem to favor an increased production in future years. Throughout the interior the markets, or rather buyers, and sellers have been quite excited; much more so, indeed, than here, for the very good reason that the wealth and capital which has got been of sufficient magnitude to create an active demand as yet; there is, however, sufficient doing to prevent any accumulation of stock; although the receipts have been largely in excess of every year's average, and likely to be the largest in the country, far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine even, which is somewhat astonishing considering the depressed state of the goods market. In some sections of the interior we hear that farmers are speculating in greasy fleeces at 40½c, and clips weighing 7½ lbs are held in some localities at rates which clean fleeces would nearly reach here—in 6 months orders for fleeces, however would probably fare better by selling rather than buying supplies at present high rates, and most of those in the Western States have lost by holding, to avail themselves of so favorable an opportunity. Nearly all the clip in Michigan has been bought up, three-fourths of that in Ohio, and the greater portion in western New York, but in Vermont the views of wool growers are so exalted as to deter the most sanguine from purchasing, and consequently many of the Eastern Woolen producers have crossed the line—gone over to Canada and purchased all they could, no embargo there at 3½@36c.

The transactions in this market aggregate some 120,000 the Fleece Wool in small lots at 43@44c for No. 1; 42c for super, and 38@39c, 6mos, for super and full blood merino. Included in the sales were 5,000 lbs, at choice at 46c for extreme figures. Buyers decline to operate for delivery up to September above noon made, but we cannot advise at further rates. Rather dull in the moderate request, and prices rule firmly; sales 5,000 lbs mixed at 50c for No. 1; 35@40c for new Leonis' Wool; 37½c for superfine old city pulled, and 42@45c for superfine and extra country.

We quote:

Am. Full blood Merino 43@47.
Am ¾ and ⅘ Merino 40@47.

Life Boat.—John Holl is building a house for the Government Life Boat and the town pays the expenses. This should have been done two years ago and the boat would not have been so much out of repairing as it is now.—Ozaukee Adv.

It is well done by our Ozaukee neighbors. Now can any one tell where and in what condition is the Life Boat, belonging at this port, which has already saved so many lives.

Steam tugs have also been built, the L. L. Lyon and the John Martin, making the tonnage already launched this season, amount to ten thousand tons. A number of sail vessels and propellers are now on the stocks in different stages of progress, and orders for several more have been received.

☞ The schooner Geo. W. Ford, arrived here on last Tuesday morning from Detroit. She was very heavily laden, having on board for this place, some 2000 bushels of corn, 100 barrels of flour, 50 barrels of pork and twenty tons of coal. In addition to this, she had a full deck load, consisting in part of lumber, shingles and lath.—The Ford was drawing 6 feet 5 inches of water, when she entered the harbor.

The schooner Mercer came in on Thursday morning, and discharged 100 kegs of powder. The Mercer belongs in Buffalo, at which place she took on her load.—Ontonagon Miner.

Vessel Collision.—The schooner Empire State, bound up for Milwaukee, with railroad iron, and the schr. W. H. Stevens, bound down, collided in the lower end of Lake Huron, on Wednesday morning last. The Empire State had her entire head gear, rail and bowsprit, carried away. The Stevens was very little injured. The Empire returned to this port, and is now repairing at Wolfner's ship yard. The Stevens went on her way.—Det. Adv., 25th inst.
